Customer Reviews

I like the pictures in this coloring book, and the paragraph summaries are very educational. My school aged grandchildren have learned a lot from this book and enjoy coloring in it with both crayons and colored pencils. I added a few pictures colored with Crayola water color pencils sold on .1. 27 illustrations (2 are 2pg) printed front and back of each page, of common animals and plants found in the woods, with informational write-ups about each. Printed on heavy weight, bright white paper. Pictures are very detailed. 2. All markers and most gel pens will leach through the pages. Cons: Some of the illustrations are 1/4th to 1/2 half dark vertical lines that show thru colored pencils, this was common with a few of Dover's early coloring books, and this is the reason for the 4 star. However, this is a favorite of my grandchildren and every page gets colored. I am on my third book now. Illustrations and summary paragraphs include: Woodchuck Eastern Chipmunk Spring

peepers & Wood Frog American Robin Eastern newt White Tailed Deer Northern Oriole Red Fox Eastern Cottontail Gray Squirrel Marbled Salamander Eastern Box Turtle White Footed Mouse Eastern Screech owl Wild Raspberry with deer Porcupine Red shouldered Hawk Rabbits Monarch Butterfly Eastern Gray Squirrel Mushrooms with buck American Toad Hibernation Bluegills White Throated sparrows American Crow Spring

This walk in the woods coloring book for adults truly a unique coloring book .With each page in this coloring is a different scene of the woods with animals that live in the woods .Each page also has a little story telling you about the picture like there is a page of baby rabbits and a mother rabbit .The story talks about the baby rabbits living in their hole in the ground .As one is coloring this in the woods coloring book you are also learning about the animals who live in the woods .This coloring book for adults is a nice way to relax and enjoy some quiet time to yourself .

This is my 5th DOVER COLORING BOOK.this one isn't the quite what I had hoped for.The pictures to color do not cover the entire page. Yes there is a discrimination of the animals on each page and all about it's life in the woods, everything you might want to know about that particular animal on that page.The last page of this coloring book has an alphabetized common name as well as scientific name of each animal in the book.In my opinion they could have made these photos larger without losing the bottom text.As for the picture, some of the pictures are too darkened due to the detail of the picture, leaving very little left for the actual coloring.I don't feel that the younger coloring enthusiasts would enjoy these pages.Other DOVER COLORING BOOK gives you much better pages to color.Hope this helps, THANKS FOR READING, BYE

Very disappointed, not much to color! The pictures are heavily shaded in black and print is in both sides of the pages. Very thin book!

What separates this author's work from so many other coloring books is the detailed line drawings, inclusive and attractive, and the accompanying text. In This case each page to be colored is filled with images, integrated into a delightful whole. Chipmunks scurry besides squirrels, while birds flit among the trees. All are botanically correct, with descriptions describing the habitat and its inhabitants. More than providing the soothing pastime of coloring, this book and others by the author educate and entertain.

I wish I would have read the other reviews before purchasing this coloring book. I hate books that are printed on both sides. The pictures are too tightly drawn. Waste of money, INHO. I'm glad I didn't pay a lot for it. Going to send it to a friend with toddlers and they had scribble in it.

This is my go to take along book when my daughter grabs her coloring books and pencils for whatever destination - Grandma's house? Doctors' waiting room? This book gives me great peace of mind thinking about nature and nothing else while I'm coloring - "what shade of blue should this bird be? how green are the leaves this time of year? or are the leaves changing colors?" etc....sublime~

This is another coloring book with very little to color in it. The pictures are so filled in with black there isn't any white left to put color on. Would not recommend this. Very disappointed.
