Listening: Bohlin Cywinski Jackson, Houses 2009-2015

Synopsis

This exquisitely designed monograph showcases the latest residential designs by one of the world's leading architectural firms. Bohlin Cywinski Jackson is acclaimed for their sensual, humane designs that celebrate the subtleties of place and the rich possibilities of materials. In this new monograph published to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the firm's founding twelve of the firm's virtuoso residential projects from the last six years are showcased in great detail and depth. Known for their exquisitely crafted houses and inventive use of natural materials, the firm excels at architecture that is refined, yet evokes the sensibility of the surrounding landscape. The striking beauty of each house's natural setting is captured through stunning photography, and detailed renderings offer greater insight into each project.

Customer Reviews

"With its bold cyan spine, this handsome book - the third the firm has published with Rizzoli - showcases the residential architecture of this beloved firm. Twelve buildings in rural areas, including Peter Bohlin's actual home, are featured, and stunning photography and renderings situate the projects providing context for the inventive use of natural materials."-SWEET via SNAPCHAT

Peter Bohlin is principal in the firm of Bohlin Cywinski Jackson. Alexandra Lange is a critic whose work has appeared in Domus, Metropolis, and the New York Times. Michael Cadwell is a professor at Ohio State University. Rick Joy is principal of Rick Joy Architects.

This is the third volume on Bohlin Cywinski Jackson's Houses from 2009-2015. All of these homes are sited in wooded or wilderness areas and their design is staggeringly beautiful. I have been an architect for 37 years and viewing these works is almost a religious experience for me. The designs are richly detailed in both steel, concrete, wood and glass. The houses are perfectly located on beautiful natural sites. The architects both listen to their clients needs but also the needs of the site. Hence the title: LISTENING. Buy all three volumes of this series, if you can.

great stuff

Great book. Excellent condition.

Love the work, love the book.
