All aboard! Pete the Cat can't wait to visit Grandma, especially because he gets to take a groovy train ride to see her.

James Dean's art has sold in more than ninety galleries and shops across the United States. He has devoted his paintings to Pete the Cat for fifteen years and has turned his natural love for cats into his life's work. James published his first adult book, The Misadventures of Pete the Cat, a history of his artwork, in 2006. He illustrated his first self-published children's book, Pete the Cat: I Love My White Shoes, in 2008, and the follow-up book, Pete the Cat: Rocking in My School Shoes, in 2011. James lives in Savannah, Georgia, with his wife, four cats, and one dog. You can visit him online at www.petethecat.com. My English language learners love Pete the Cat. This is a nice story for emerging early readers, as the illustrations help children to understand any new vocabulary that they don't know. In this book, Pete explores a train and tells his story about travelling to see his grandma. My ESL students really latched on to and understood the concept and had great discussions after they read it. Great little learning tool. Fun illustrations!

Great for a child learning to read, and an especially good choice for a gift from Grandma. Pete and his brother ride a train to visit their grandmother!

We love Pete the Cat and this book is especially nice since my son also loves trains.

This one is super cute. My daughter absolutely loves it. She has learned in variety of new words at the age of 2 because of this book and learning about the different aspects of the train and those who work on it train. Is one of my more favorite pete the cat books.

Might be a little tough (if you end up reading it to your toddler).

Aww who doesn't love Pete the Cat? This time he's on a trip to see his grandma and let's just say he has a nice trip.

I have nothing against James Dean. I love his illustrations and I wish him all the best. I have a problem, however, with the lack of Eric Litwin's writing in the newer Pete the Cat books, so I'm writing this for the benefit of those shopping for a certain style. If you are looking for the rhyming, sing-songy style of Pete the Cat and his Four Groovy Buttons, you'll not see it here. I'm a school librarian and our younger students love to sing along with "I'm rocking in my school shoes," and they relish the repetitive "Did Pete cry? Goodness, no." I love the earlier books for their pictures, but I got hooked because of the writing style. So, I feel like someone baited me into loving Pete the Cat and then changed it while I wasn't looking. The books that were written by Eric Litwin (and illustrated by the very-talented James Dean) were: Pete the Cat and His Four Groovy Buttons, Pete the Cat Rocking in My School Shoes, Pete the Cat I Love My White Shoes, and Pete the Cat Saves Christmas. If, however, you have a train-loving child and are interested in any train-related book, this is cute and affordable.

Pete the Cat is always so entertaining for my kindergarten class.
